TRAC Briefing

As of July 27, 2022, all reenlistment and extension customer actions have migrated to the myFSS platform.

Transaction Reporting and Control (TRAC) Briefing

The purpose of the Transaction Reporting and Control (TRAC) briefing is to provide you with information on procedures, entitlements and limitations regarding reenlistment, with the ultimate goal of getting you to apply for either reenlistment or separation/retirement before you reach the 120th day prior to your date of separation (DOS).

If you do not take action that results in the projection of your reenlistment or retirement you will be projected for separation. Additionally, one of the following actions will occur unless you make other arrangements:

If you are a first term Airman who does not have a Career Job Reservation on file (Reenlistment Ineligibility code 3I), you will automatically be projected for separation

If you are a second term Airman/Guardian, you will be projected for separation once you are within 90 days of your DOS if you have not been projected for reenlistment

If you are eligible for retirement, it is up to you to initiate the retirement process

Webcast Teams Channel (for MPF & CSS)

AFPC Field Support Webcast Recordings are now available on Microsoft Teams.

AFPC knows that Personnel Airmen are busy taking care of their respective missions at their units, home stations, and beyond. As a result, many members of our community (especially our CSS Airman) are unable to attend AFPC's webcasts and could potentially miss out on vital program, policy, and training updates. To better serve our community, AFPC launched a Microsoft Teams channel dedicated to consolidating our webcast recordings and presentation slides to a single location. By joining the channel, you can view and download our most recent webcast recordings and Powerpoint slides, without having to navigate to MyPers & Milsuite separately.

AFPC created two separate channels to mitigate the DoD limit of 2,500 members per channel; both channels having identical content. Join to the link below:

PRS Points

Promotion Recommendation Score (PRS) Points for Promotion to Staff Sergeant and Technical Sergeant

Beginning with the 22E6 promotion cycle, EPR points will be calculated under the new Promotion Recommendation Score (PRS) matrix. Similar to the current system, the PRS matrix will continue to utilize a maximum of three Time in Grade (TIG) eligible Force Distributed (FD) EPRs. The top EPR will receive points for recent performance while experience points will be awarded for a maximum of two sequential TIG eligible EPRs based on promotion recommendation. Additionally, “Not Ready Now” recommendation will no longer receive promotion points and the “Do Not Promote” recommendation will be removed under PRS.

SPOTLIGHT AIRMAN OF THE MONTH

SSgt Shelby Medford

SSgt Medford was born and raised in Bennett, Colorado. She joined the US Air Force to branch out from their small town and gain new experiences. What she enjoys the most as part of the MPF is its fast-paced aspect of work. On her free time, she likes to do puzzles. The more challenging it is, the better. SSgt Medford's current goals are to finish her CCAF degree and receive an assignment to her next station. Finally, what motivates her are her nieces and nephew, but ultimately, it is her Grammy that inspires her.
