Pet Policy

Please respect our “No Pets” policy and understand that pets are not allowed in any rooms or on the grounds of the Sakakawea Inn, except near the pet-friendly family units. Some individuals are very sensitive to pet dander. Eliminating pet allergens, which can cause illness, is labor intensive, time consuming, and requires the unit to be taken out of service. To ensure cleanliness standards are met, any guest found with a pet will be asked to remove the animal and may be charged an additional fee for cleaning or damages up to $150. If the pet is not removed from the room, both the guest and the pet will be required to vacate the quarters and held liable for damages beyond fair wear and tear. See the paragraph entitled “Kennels” for a list of local kennels.

We are pleased to offer the opportunity to have your pet(s) stay with you in our TLF quarters. The Sakakawea Inn has twelve pet-friendly family units equipped with one large cage, bowls, and debris removal equipment outside the units. We have a limited number of Aero beds and cribs. If you contact the front desk, they will be able to help you with this service.

Room Climate

We do our best to provide comfortable room temperatures for our guests. Our facilities have central heating in season. Civil Engineering can only switch systems to heat once in the fall. Unfortunately, with seasonal changes and heating system limitations, we sometimes experience days that result in uncomfortable room temperatures. In Building 173, the wall air conditioner/heat pump can augment central heating to ensure your comfort. Our TLFs and VQ units have their own HVAC systems fully equipped with heat and air upon demand. Our staff is committed to minimizing any discomfort with extra blankets. Let us know how we can help.

Security Tips

1. Keep your room door locked at all times; use the supplemental safety latch.
2. Be sure to secure doors and windows when leaving.
3. Do not leave money, jewelry, or valuables unsecured in your room at any time.
4. Do not leave personal items in hallways, laundry rooms, or common areas.
5. Report suspicious people or packages to Security Forces by dialing 727-1911

Smoking Policy

Minot AFB is committed to providing a clean, smoke-free environment for the health and well-being of our guests. This policy includes every lodging room and encompasses common areas such as the front desk, laundry rooms, lounges, and hallways. We strive to offer a pleasant and healthy experience; please observe the non-smoking designation and honor our commitment to providing smoke-free accommodations. Removing smoking odors is labor intensive. It requires all linens, draperies, and bedding to be cleaned; the room must be taken out of service until carpeting dries. Therefore, a $75 cleaning fee will be assessed if your room smells strongly of tobacco smoke or there is evidence of smoking in your room. There are designated smoking areas outside each building.

Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty (START)

Minot Air Force base is one of many bases to host inspection teams from the Commonwealth of Independent States and the On-Site Inspection Agency in compliance with the Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty. The Sakakawea Inn is tasked to provide these teams with a controlled environment. Rooms 2001-2012 and 1101-1110 are assigned to the START team when they are visiting. If you are staying in one of these rooms, you will be asked to move to another room at the Sakakawea Inn or to one of our contract quarters downtown. When the START Team arrives at their port of entry, we will notify you by placing a letter in your room alerting you to the fact that Minot is eligible for inspection. At that time, please check in at the front desk to let us know how we can contact you—either cell phone or duty extension. Once Minot has been notified of selection, we have less than two hours to relocate guests. If we cannot reach you, it will be necessary for lodging staff members to pack your room and move your belongings to secure storage. We apologize for any inconvenience this may cause.

Sundries

The front desk stocks a variety of sundries for our guests from aspirins to dog treats. For your convenience, our front desk is manned from 0600-2200 daily.

Visitors

Registered guests of the Sakakawea Inn are authorized to have visitors in their rooms, but overnight visitors are prohibited. Visitors are not authorized a key to your quarters and must be accompanied by the registered guest at all times. Registered guests are responsible for any damages caused by visitors or guests.

Wake Up Service

For your convenience, guest quarters are equipped with clock/radio alarms to help get your day off to a good start. You can also take advantage of our automated 24-hour wake up service by dialing 5000 from your room phone and follow the prompts. To cancel a wake-up call dial 5000, follow the prompts and your wake-up call will be cancelled.

Walking or Jogging

When walking alongside a road where no sidewalks or paths are provided, face oncoming traffic and use caution. At night wear bright or reflective clothing. It is recommended that all personnel wear reflective belts while walking or jogging especially in less visible conditions. We highly recommend using the base track or the 5K, 6.2K or 10K run routes which are located in the map section of this directory. Please warm up and stretch to prevent injuries.

Weather Information

Many newcomers are apprehensive about North Dakota winters and imagine that the entire year will be cold. North Dakota has a wide variation in weather conditions. While the winters can be bitter, the summers are glorious with big blue skies that last until 10 pm during the June solstice. A few facts about our climate:

- On average, the warmest month is July.
- The highest recorded temperature was 109°F in 1936.
- January is the average coldest month.
- The lowest recorded temperature was -49°F in 1936.
- The maximum average precipitation occurs in June.

- Mean Annual Precipitation: 18.7 inches.
- Mean Annual Snowfall: 45.1 inches.

Severe weather during the summertime can mean lightning, hail, and even tornados. While tornados are not uncommon, they are usually minimal. Severe weather warnings are posted on television channels and are broadcast over the “Giant Voice”. A severe weather watch indicates that conditions are right for destructive hail or tornados. A severe weather warning indicates such activity has been sited. The Giant Voice will broadcast instructions and local sirens will sound with a warbling tone in the event of imminent danger. In the event of a tornado warning, the preferred shelter is in a basement. The laundry room and fitness facility located below the lodging lobby would be a good choice if you are close enough to reach it safely. If not, find an interior hallway or enclosed room such as a bathroom—preferably without a window. Take shelter in the bathtub or under furniture if available. During the actual event, cover your head and face with your arms to protect from flying debris.

Severe weather during the winter months is due to wind chills or extreme cold. Some tips for dealing with cold temperatures:

- Dress in layers; cover your head.
- Check the weather and latest road conditions before traveling.
- Let others know where you are going and when you expect to arrive.
- Pack a winter survival kit in your car. The kit should include: a shovel, blankets, flashlights and extra batteries, matches, candles, a coffee can to hold the candle or melt snow for drinking, first aid kit, water, quick energy food, flares, jumper cables, and tow rope.
- Never travel in extreme temperatures without a full tank of gas in case you become stranded.
- Take a cellular phone so you can call for help.
- Watch for signs of frostbite (usually affects extremities first): pain in small areas, numbness, tingling. If you think you’re suffering from frostbite, get inside to get warm or add clothing or blankets.
- Never abandon your car to walk for help. It is easy to become disoriented and lost during blizzard conditions.

Fort Abraham Lincoln State Park

Rich in both military and early Native American history, Fort Abraham Lincoln was once an important infantry and cavalry post. It was from this fort that Lt. Col. George Armstrong Custer and the Seventh Cavalry rode out on their ill-fated expedition against the Sioux at the Little Big Horn. Portions of the military post, including the Custer House, have been reconstructed.

Popular with visitors is On-A-Slant Indian Village. Reconstructed earth lodges depict the lifestyle of the Mandan Indians, who occupied this site from about 1575-1781. Lewis and Clark wintered in this area with the Mandan Indians where they met their Indian guide, Sakakawea, who led them to the Pacific.

A modern campground is located in a scenic wooded area adjacent to the Heart River with picnic sites and playground equipment. Walking along the gently sloping hills, visitors have a panoramic vista of the Missouri River from the park's nature and historic trails.

Other activities/facilities include camp grounds, RV dump site, sleeping cabins, hiking trails, interpretive tours, picnic areas and playgrounds. Ft. Abraham Lincoln State Park is located 7 miles south of Mandan, on Highway 1806

Lake Metigoshe State Park

Nestled in the scenic Turtle Mountains on the shores of Lake Metigoshe, Lake Metigoshe State Park was constructed by the Works Progress Administration (WPA) in the 1930s and is one of the most popular year-round vacation spots in North Dakota.

The Chippewa called the lake "Metigoshe Washegum," or "clear water lake surrounded by oaks." Today, the lake is noted for its northern pike, walleye and perch fishing. The rolling hills, aspen forests and small lakes attract nature and photography lovers to the area to capture these sights on film. The Old Oak Trail, a National Recreation Trail, is found within the park boundaries.

The park has both modern and primitive camping, as well as picnicking areas. There are group dormitories, kitchen and meeting facilities and year-round cabins available for rent. The area features numerous events of interest throughout the year.

Winter provides opportunities for snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, skating, sledding and ice fishing. The snowmobile trails within the park connect with over 250 miles of groomed trails throughout the Turtle Mountains.

Lake Metigoshe State Park is located 14 miles northeast of Bottineau, ND, along the U.S./Canadian border.

Pioneer Village, Rugby ND

Rugby is the geographical center of North America—a spot marked by a stone obelisk just off Highway 2. Not far from the marker is the Pioneer Village with numerous original structures representing early prairie life including a church, black smith shop, and school displaying antiques and artifacts of a bygone era. Rugby is located about 60 miles east of Minot AFB.

Lake Sakakawea

Lake Sakakawea is one of five major lakes created on the Missouri River by the federal government in an effort to eliminate the annual flooding of river lowlands. Lake Sakakawea is located in west-central North Dakota stretching from the Garrison Dam nearly 150 miles to the Montana border and is 14 miles wide at it's widest. The lake depth in main channel ranges from 70 to 175 feet with the deepest portion off the face of Garrison Dam. Because of its size, Lake Sakakawea offers lots of wide-open area for fishing and water sports. Sailboat and wind surfers find lots of wind energy to propel their crafts.

Lake Sakakawea offers a wide-range of sport fishing. Cold water species include lake, rainbow and brown trout and Chinook salmon. Walleye, sauger and the cross saugeye give anglers lots of action as do the giant northern pike in Sakakawea. Pan fishermen can catch good numbers of large crappie and perch.

Lake Sakakawea State Park offers a wide range of water based recreational activities and facilities. The park has a full service marina, including boat rentals, convenience store, fishing guide services and boat and camper storage. Two large boat ramps serve the park for access to the best salmon fishing on the lake. The park hosts numerous fishing derbies throughout the summer.

Activities enjoyed in the Lake Sakakawea State Park include camping, biking, canoeing, cross country skiing, hiking, horse trails, snowmobiling, and the Prairie Rose State Games. Find out more information on ND State Parks at:

Medora, ND

Visit historic Medora in the North Dakota Badlands. This sleepy little town comes to life in the summer as the gateway to the Theodore Roosevelt National Park. Medora retains much of its historic cow town flavor and offers numerous “old west” experiences for the visitor. Sites and activities while visiting Medora include: Medora musical; Maah Daah Hey Trail, Bully Pulpit Golf Course, North Dakota Cowboy Hall of Fame, Chateau de Mores, Pitchfork Fondue, Harold Schafer Heritage Center, Peaceful Valley Ranch, horseback riding, miniature golf, Medora Children’s Park, buggy rides, and the historic Roughrider Hotel.

He built a meat packing plant for this purpose and a house named the “Chateau de Mores”. The house is now a museum. Despite the vision and energy of the Marquis, all of his various enterprises ended in financial failure by the fall of 1886.

Maah Daah Hey Trail: A 96-mile trail that connects the northern and southern portions of the “Theodore Roosevelt National Park and winds through the Little Missouri National Grasslands in North Dakota’s Badlands to form the longest continuous single track trail in America. Maah Daah Hey is a phrase from the Mandan Indians meaning “an area that has been or will be around for a long time.”

Bike, hike, or ride the Maah Daah Hey Trail which begins a few miles south of Medora at Sully Creek State Park and ends at the CCC campground near the North Unit of Theodore Roosevelt National Park. The trail connects both the North Unit and South Unit. Although biking is not allowed in the parks themselves, alternate bike trails have been constructed to bypass the parks. The entire trail is open however, to hikers and horseback riders. There are multiple trailhead entry points which can be accessed from highway 85 and country roads on the west side of the Little Missouri River. For more information call:

Park HQ: (701) 623-4466

The colorful Little Missouri River Badlands provides the scenic backdrop to the park which memorializes the 26th president. The Little Missouri River began to carve the badlands about 600,000 years ago during Pleistocene time after the river was diverted by glaciers from its once northerly route to Hudson Bay.

Theodore Roosevelt first came to the badlands in September 1883 on a hunting trip. While here he became interested in the cattle business and invested in the Maltese Cross Ranch. He returned the next year and established the Elkhorn Ranch. Years later he stated several times, "I never would have been President if it had not been for my experiences in North Dakota."

Directions: The North and South units are in western North Dakota. The South Unit entrance and South Unit (Medora) Visitor Center are located in Medora, just off Interstate 94 (exits 23 & 27) and is 135 miles west of Bismarck.

The Painted Canyon Visitor Center is located 7 miles east of Medora just off I-94 at exit 32.

The North Unit entrance is located 16 miles south of Watford City along U.S. Highway 85. The distance between Medora at the South Unit and the North Unit is 70 miles via I-94 and U. S. Highway 85.

Maltese Cross Ranch

"I do not believe there ever was any life more attractive to a vigorous young fellow than life on a cattle ranch in those days. It was a fine, healthy life, too; it taught a man self-reliance, hardihood, and the value of instant decision...I enjoyed the life to the full." Theodore Roosevelt

It was here in the North Dakota badlands in 1883 that Theodore Roosevelt first arrived to hunt bison. Before he left, he acquired primary interests in the Maltese Cross or Chimney Butte Ranch. Roosevelt thrived on the vigorous outdoor lifestyle, and actively participated in the life of a working cowboy.

The Maltese Cross Ranch cabin was originally located about seven miles south of Medora in the wooded bottom-lands of the Little Missouri River. At Roosevelt's request, ranch managers built a 1½ story cabin complete with a shingle roof and cellar. Constructed of durable ponderosa pine logs that had been cut and floated down the Little Missouri River, the cabin was considered somewhat of a "mansion" in its day, with wooden floors and three separate rooms (kitchen, living room and Roosevelt's bedroom). The steeply pitched roof—an oddity on the northern plains—created a sleeping loft for the ranch hands.

Numerous items in the cabin today belonged to Theodore Roosevelt. Those that did not are from the same time period and are typical furnishings of that day.

A prolific writer, Roosevelt spent many lamp-lit hours laboring at the desk in the living room recording his memoirs and reminiscences of Badlands life. Between 1884 and 1885 he completed Hunting Trips of a Ranchman at the desk in the Maltese Cross cabin.

Roosevelt actively ranched in the badlands until 1887, but maintained ranching interest in the area until 1898. He later developed a conservation program as president that deeply reflected his experiences here in the West where he had become keenly aware of the need to conserve and protect natural resources.

During Roosevelt's presidency, the Maltese Cross cabin was exhibited in Portland, Oregon and St. Louis. It was then moved to the state capitol grounds in Bismarck. In 1959, the cabin was relocated to its present site and renovated.
